...wood floors deserve the best!

The Impressively Invisible Protection of Your Wood Floor by our NATURALWHITE Technology

Natural and raw looking wood floors are extremely popular and trendy. Owners love the pure natural beauty of their wood floor and want to preserve and emphasize this pure wood character permanently.

The NATURALWHITE Technology from Berger-Seidle offers this to perfection. And regardless of whether the customer prefers an oiled or sealed surface: both are possible! So the craftsman can equally go for one open-pore as well as for a sealed surface, but without losing the desired character of the look. All this comes with the right and matching care system. The client has the choice:

AQUASEAL NATURALWHITE offers the perfect coating for the true raw wood look. The product is extreme matt and preserves the natural appearance. All this even with full 3-layer built-up for high traffic areas and without tendency of white spots - for an easy, safe use. The final treated surface cannot be distinguished from raw wood - even by professionals. All this comes with the usual and well-known high-end resistance level and premium robustness of our AQUASEAL 2K products. The product is recommended for light woods like oak or maple. For dark woods, AQUASEAL ROYALMAT is the perfect solution, having an also extreme high matting level but preserves the dark appearance without creating a string whitish film. AQUASEAL NATURALWHITE is part of the NATURALWHITE LINE, which has all the options to have bright raw wood look. Both products are available in practical Berger-Seidle 2K combi containers with 5.5 l and 1,65 l.

CLASSIC BASEOIL NATURALWHITE as a color variant of the perfect oil impregnation offers a wonderful, invisible raw wood look. Even for professionals, it is hard to find differences between sanded raw wood and light floors treated with CLASSIC BASEOIL NATURALWHITE. The usual, color-intensifying effect of an oil is not happening, the oil keeps the light character of the wood. Nevertheless, the well-known option to combine CLASSIC BASEOIL with the usual other products is still possible and makes the product unique and extremely flexible. It is especially recommended for light wood species like oak or maple. With BRILLIANCE OILCARE NATURALWHITE the perfectly matching maintenance and care solution is available. The product can be ordered in little 0,125 l testing cans up to 5 l containers.

BRILLIANCE OILCARE NATURALWHITE offers in its version NATURALWHITE the perfectly matched oil care system for surfaces in raw wood look treated with CLASSIC BASEOIL NATURALWHITE. The product is easy-to-use and the perfect maintenance to keep and refresh the natural, invisible look. The usual 1 l packaging is also standard for NATURALWHITE.
